

Botswana's proposed solar container project is announced

Who owns a solar power station in Botswana?

In July 2021, the Botswana Energy Regulatory Authority (BERA) also approved the project, and issued a generation license. The power station is under development by a consortium comprising Shumba Energy Limited from Botswana and Solarcentury Africa, based in the United Kingdom.

How will Botswana Power Projects be implemented?

These projects, with a combined capacity of 1.5GW, will be implemented through private sector investment, with the Botswana Power Corporation (BPC) acting as the offtaker under long-term Power Purchase Agreements (PPAs) of up to 25 years.

How will Scatec power plant work in Botswana?

The power plant is Scatec's first in Botswana and will generate predictable revenues from a 25-year power purchase agreement (PPA) with Botswana Power Corporation, the national utility. The remaining 60 MW of the project is currently under construction and is expected to be completed in the beginning of 2026.

How much shareholding does Botswana need to invest in solar?

"Utility-scale projects by foreign private sector entities require at least 40% mandatory shareholding by Botswana citizen-owned companies. However, small-scale solar PV investments are reserved for 100% citizen-owned companies," Kenewendo added.

How many solar projects are planned in Maun & Letlhakane?

Initially, two large-scale projects were planned; a 200MW concentrated solar power plant in Maun and a 100MW solar photovoltaic (PV) project in Letlhakane. Instead, the government has opted for Maun Solar PV (500MW), Letlhakane Solar PV (400MW), Isang Solar PV (400MW), and Mmadinare Solar Project (100MW).

Does Scatec own the solar power plant?

Scatec owns 100% of the project and is aiming to reduce its long-term economic interest by inviting additional equity partners. "We are very proud to achieve COD for the first phase of the solar power plant within budget, reinforcing our commitment to advancing renewable energy in the region," says Terje Pilskog, CEO Scatec.
