How should governments encourage storage deployment in Asia markets?

How Should Governments Incentivize Storage Deployment in Asia Markets? The Asia Pacific added 25GW/51GWh of energy storage capacity in 2023 and is expected to increase this total by 60% in 2024. Southeast Asia alone is expected to hit 6.2GW/15.9GWh by the end of 2030.

Does ASEAN need energy storage?

The ASEAN bloc has set the targets of 23% renewable energy in its Total Primary Energy Supply (TPES) and 35% renewable energy in ASEAN installed power capacity by 2025. This means that energy storage is required. Additionally, without BESS acceptance on a larger level, the needed funds won't materialise, and fewer BESS will be built.

Does Singapore have a battery energy storage system?

Of the 11 ASEAN members, Singapore is taking the lead in the battery energy storage systems (BESS) space. Earlier this year, the city-state launched the region's largest battery energy storage system (BESS).

How much energy will Southeast Asia have by 2030?

Southeast Asia alone is expected to hit 6.2GW/15.9GWh by the end of 2030. As demand grows for energy, and pressure is placed on the continued deployment of intermittent renewables, governments stand to benefit from greater storage deployment.

What is a battery energy storage system (BESS) in Singapore?

Singapore's new BESS will help mitigate the solar intermittency caused by changing weather conditions in the region's tropical climate. Because wind and solar resources aren't constantly available and predictable, they're referred to as intermittent energy resources. What Is a Battery Energy Storage System (BESS)?
