CPV installations are located in China, the United States, South Africa, Italy and Spain. HCPV directly competes with concentrated solar power (CSP) as both technologies are suited best for areas with high direct normal irradiance, which are also known as the Sun Belt region in the United States and the Golden Banana in Southern Europe.

Alternative Solar Solutions. An On-Grid rooftop solar energy system STOPS generating Electricity during a Grid power failure for "Anti-islanding" protection measures, which is a mandatory Safety feature. The On-Grid solar system requires a reference voltage from the utility-grid connection for its functioning, and hence a power-cut will result in the shut down of this Grid-Tied solar plant.
